Session 37 as written runs about 105 minutes. It is the first session of Phase 2, so this insert opens it with a short video about the whole phase, adds a session video, and adds one talk filmed inside a prison, which fills the session to two hours.

What's in this insert

- Video 37A, "Phase 2: Build Others" (3 min 8 s). The whole of Phase 2 in three minutes: from "How do I grow?" to "How do I help someone else grow?", the road through Weeks 13 to 24, simulation training (FORGE's core innovation), what it takes to move on to Phase 3, and "Phase 1 was about you. Phase 2 is about everyone else." It ends on the guide's opening-round question, How are you feeling about starting Phase 2? And what's one thing from Phase 1 that changed you?, and holds it for 20 seconds.
- Video 37B, "What Makes a Good Mentor" (1 min 58 s). MENTOR's five Elements of Effective Practice, one at a time; the credible messenger model ("Your past is not a disqualification. It's a credential."); and friend, authority figure and mentor side by side. It ends on the guide's question, Have you ever had a mentor?, and holds it for 20 seconds.
- A talk filmed inside Attica prison: Attica prisoners and guards (TEDxAttica, 10 minutes 11 seconds), given by two incarcerated men and a correctional officer who work together in a program that mentors at-risk young people. It is the credible messenger model in practice.

Run of show (120 minutes)

Time	Segment	Min	Notes
0:00	Video 37A	4	Play it before anything else, with the room already in a circle. It marks the move into Phase 2 and ends on the opening-round question; go straight into the round.
0:04	Opening circle	15	As written: the Phase 2 transition and the talking-piece round (the question is already on screen).
0:19	Video 37B , then What the Research Says: Elements of Effective Mentoring	20	Play the video at the start of the segment. It ends on "Have you ever had a mentor?"; take the 3–4 responses the guide asks for, then teach the five elements. The video names them; the guide's explanations are the teaching.
0:39	The Credible Messenger Model	20	As written.
0:59	Talk: Attica prisoners and guards	11

Time	Segment	Min	Notes
			Introduce it in one sentence: "These men are serving long sentences, and they mentor kids from the outside. Watch what gives them the right to be heard."
1:10	Exercise: The Mentor I Needed	15	As written. In the share-out, use question 1 or 2 below if the room is slow to start.
1:25	Mentor vs. Friend vs. Authority Figure	15	As written. The video showed the three columns; build them on the board with the men.
1:40	The Paradox of Mentoring	10	As written. Question 3 below fits here.
1:50	Closing circle	10	As written.

Questions for Attica prisoners and guards

1. The mentors in this talk are serving time. What do they have that a volunteer from the outside doesn't, when they talk to a young man headed where they have been?
2. A correctional officer and incarcerated men run this program together. Where do you see a mentor, a friend and an authority figure in how they work with the young people?
3. Listen for what the mentors say they get out of it. How does that connect to the paradox of mentoring, that you give in order to grow?
