Session 28 as written runs about 95 minutes. This insert adds two short videos, which play inside the segments they serve, and one talk by a man who taught himself to read in prison. Together they fill the session to two hours.

What's in this insert

- Video 28A, "Growth Mindset" (1 min 53 s). Week 10 as the capstone week of new content: ten weeks of foundation on screen, the week's question ("Who are you becoming, and why does it matter?"), and what growth mindset, purpose and the stakeholder identity each give. It ends on "You have a foundation. Now what? Who do you become with it?" and holds it for 20 seconds.
- Video 28B, "Fixed Mindset, Growth Mindset" (2 min 27 s). Carol Dweck's two mindsets side by side (challenges, effort, feedback, other people's success, failure), fixed-mindset beliefs as stories, and the guide's four "yet" sentences on screen one at a time. It ends on the discussion question, "What's a fixed-mindset belief you've carried?", and holds it for 20 seconds.
- A talk: Curtis "Wall Street" Carroll, How I learned to read — and trade stocks — in prison (TEDxSanQuentin 2016, 10 minutes 53 seconds), with discussion questions.

Run of show (120 minutes)

Time	Segment	Min	Notes
0:00	Opening Circle	10	As written, with the problem-solving check-in.
0:10	Video 28A , then Review and Reflection	10	Play it straight after the check-in. It gives the ten-week recap in the guide's words, so skip the monologue. It ends on "Now what? Who do you become with it?" Take three or four answers. Nobody needs a polished one yet.
0:20	Video 28B , then Instruction: Fixed Mindset vs. Growth Mindset	25	The video teaches both mindsets and "yet" with the guide's examples. It ends on the discussion question: let four or five men share, and after each one the group adds "yet," as written. Use the rest of the time on the beliefs the men name and on the guide's closing lines about who they're becoming.
0:45	Instruction: Failure as Information	10	As written, with the personal connection.
0:55	Practice Exercise: Rewriting Fixed-Mindset Beliefs	20	As written.
1:15		10	As written. It leads straight into the talk.

Time	Segment	Min	Notes
	Instruction: Incarceration as a Crucible
1:25	Talk: Curtis "Wall Street" Carroll	11	Introduce it in one sentence: "At 20, in prison, this man could not read. Listen for what he did about it."
1:36	Talk discussion	10	Questions below.
1:46	Closing Circle	10	As written, with the homework.
1:56	Buffer	4

Discussion questions for How I learned to read — and trade stocks — in prison

1. At 20, Carroll could not read, write or spell. He calls picking up a book "the hardest thing I'd ever done in my life." What fixed-mindset belief did he have to get past to do it? What would his "yet" sentence have been?
2. He says learning to read gave him "self-worth, knowledge, discipline." Where in his story do you see effort as the path, not a sign of weakness?
3. He did all of this inside a prison. How does his story answer the question from the crucible segment: "How are you going to grow in a place designed to hold you in place?"
4. He says, "I chose to commit crimes, and I had to own up to that," and later, "I now cared about my community." What changed in what he did for the men around him once he started growing?
5. Look at the three beliefs you rewrote today. Which one would you most like to be telling a room about a few years from now, the way he does?

Preview the talk before the session. Carroll says he was arrested at 17 for robbery and murder, and talks about family members addicted to crack cocaine. He jokes about money and race, and there is one "What the hell?" There is no graphic imagery.

TED talks carry a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND license. TED's usage policy says a single talk used in one lesson is generally permitted, with credit to TED. It also says a talk used as a standing part of a curriculum across many sessions or cohorts "may require a separate license," and that talks should not be scraped from TED's site. FORGE will show this talk to every cohort and the prison has no internet, so write to TED (help.ted.com, licensing) for an offline copy for a nonprofit, no-fee, in-prison program. Show it whole and unedited, with its title card.

Optional, if the men want the research behind today's model: Carol Dweck, The power of believing that you can improve (TEDxNorrköping 2014, 10 minutes 10 seconds), on "the power of yet." Her examples are schoolchildren, so it lands better as a second look than as the main talk. Use it instead of the Carroll talk, not as well as it.
